Train the Trainer: Manual handling and ergonomic assesments

Train the Trainer (manual handling and ergonomic assesments) is a program designed to develop the skills and knowledge of employees, enabling them to plan and present interactive and effective training sessions within their own workplace.

Who is it for?

- Employers looking to upskill their staff and increase their internal training capabilities.

What it involves?

- Training delivery: Rehab Management conducts training on a specific topic, either digitally or in person, to upskill external staff. This enables them to conduct the training themselves within their organization.
- Interactive sessions: The training is designed to be interactive and engaging, ensuring that participants can effectively learn and apply the skills.

What to expect:

- Personalized training: Tailored to meet the specific needs of the employer and the industry.
- Cost-effective solutions: Helps reduce external training costs by building internal training capabilities.
- Easy implementation: Easy to use and book, with time-sensitive scheduling to meet organizational needs.
- RTO approval: Training meets Registered Training Organization (RTO) standards, ensuring high-quality outcomes.

When might you need this service:

- Website enquiries: When employers inquire about training solutions via the website.
- Employer discussions: During meetings or discussions with employers who express a desire to upskill their workforce.
- Barrier identification: During file reviews, if barriers to effective training are identified.
